Grimes Injures Finger in Ninth Frame and Philadelphia Makes 2 Runs

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 5.—(UP)—
Behind the masterful pitching of Burleigh Grimes, the St.
Louis Cardinals won the third game of the 1931 world series over the Philadelphia Athletics, 5 to 2 here today.

Grimes limited the normally hard hitting Athletics to two hits, one of them a 6th inning home run by Al Simmons, left fielder.

Not until the eighth inning did the Athletics batter hit safely.

Miller singled in the eighth and broke the mastery of the rough and ready Cardinals pitcher. He "died" on base, however.

In the ninth Simmons drove over the right field fence with pinch runner McNair on first and only then did the A's break into the scoring column.

In winning the Cardinals routed Lefty Grove, number 1 man of the Athletics' staff. The Cards, however, led by Pepper Martin, the series batting hero, fell upon Grove heavily in the second, fourth and seventh innings.

In the second innings by Martin and Wilson, after Bottomley had walked resulted in scores for Bottomley and the "Pepper."

In the fourth, Hafey singled, Martin doubled and Grimes singled to score Hafey and Martin. In the seventh inning Roettger doubled and Frisch singled, but Grove relieved the side without a score.

Mahaffey went in to pitch for Grove in the ninth. A double by Bottomley in that inning scored Watkins, who was running for Roettger.

The outcome was a distinct reversal of batting form for the Athletics had been favorites to win this game if Grove pitched. Even though Grove did have the handicap of a badly blistered pitching finger.

Grove tried manfully enough and

U.S. SENATOR DWIGHT MORROW DIES SUDDENLY AT HIS HOME

Called As He Sleeps This Noon

Cerebral Hemorrhage is Given as Cause of His Death, By Doctor

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—(UP)— Dwight W. Morrow, United States Senator from New Jersey and former Ambassador to Mexico, died suddenly today at his home in Englewood, N. J.

Morrow died of cerebral hemorrhage at 1:52 p. m. in his sleep, it was announced here by his secretary.

The announcement said:
"Senator Dwight W. Morrow passed away in his sleep at his home in Englewood, N. J. today at 1:52 p. m. from a cerebral hemorrhage."

The passing of Morrow came as a deep shock to his relatives and associates. He had apparently been in excellent health and was active up until last night, when he made a radio speech in a drive for Jewish charity funds.

He was taking a nap at his home when he was stricken. An official announcement said death occurred at 1:52 p. m.

Plans for the funeral had not yet been made. Of his four children, his daughter, Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh, will not be able to attend. Word of her father's death was sent to China, where she is on an airplane tour with her husband.

Edison is a free thinker, but his relations with the Catholic church always have been cordial. About a year ago the pope presented him with a gold medal in appreciation for a special dictating machine Edison had sent the Vatican.

The parodies were among the five granted by the prison board at its week end meeting. Five others, including W. W. and Mark L. Watterson brothers are serving 10 year terms on grand theft charges.

Immediate paroles were given C.
L. Hoerath and Joseph Flores, Los Angeles burglars, and L. A. Gonzalez, San Francisco, convicted on a statutory charge.

Work will begin immediately,
Doyle said, in accepting presidency of the Virginia Hotel Corporation, Ltd., which will build the project. Charles E. Mason will be lessee or manager of the Casino. The hotel will have 125 rooms in the first unit.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 5.—(UP)—
A $300,000 hotel and casino will be erected at Las Vegas, Nev., by a group of Los Angeles capitalists headed by Jack Doyle, boxing promoter, it was announced today.

Work will begin immediately,
Doyle said, in accepting presiden-

THOMAS EDISON GROWS WEAKER HOURLY REPORT

Physician Does Not Expect
Emergency Within Next Day or Two

WEST ORANGE, N. J., Oct. 5.—
(UP)—Thomas Alva Edison, 84-year-old wizard of invention, was weaker today than any time in the last three weeks, according to his personal physician, Dr. Hubert S. Howe.

"I expect no actual emergency for the next day or two," the doctor added.

Yesterday morning Edison's life was despaired of, but he seemed to rally somewhat during the day and ate supper of stewed pears and cereal.

"I enjoyed my supper," he said
after the meal.

Hundreds of messages inquiring about the aged inventor's condition were received at the Llewellyn Park estate here, two of them from Pope Pius XI.

The messages from the Vatican were signed by Cardinal Pacelli.
The first said:

"Kindly send information regarding Mr. Edison."

The second read: "The holy father desires further information regarding the health of Mr. Edison. Please ask family direct and inform them of the holy father's deep interest."

HIGHEST COURT RECONVENES IN CAPITAL TODAY

Supreme Body of Nation Begins 142nd Year of Deliberations

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—(UP)— Reconvening to begin its 142nd year of deliberations, the Supreme Court of the United States today was a center of perhaps greater public interest than on any similar occasion in recent years.

Lawyers, statesmen, politicians, and businessmen, are looking forward to a session which may cast further light on a seeming realignment of the court.

This realignment became definitely apparent late last session.
Previously Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes and Louis D. Brandeis had achieved a reputation for writing vigorous dissenting ("liberal") opinions. Now it was found that more frequently than not their views were those of the majority.

The change was brought about by the addition to the court's personnel of Chief Justices Hughes and later of Justice Owen D. Roberts. Both had ascended the bench late in the 1929 term.

Joined with the votes of Holmes,
"the grand old man" of the bench,
Brandeis, and, almost always, Justice Harlan Fiske Stone, a majority was formed that wrote opinions decidedly "liberal" on many subjects.

For the coming term, many cases have been brought up for

REDUCTION IN WAGES BLAMED ONTO BANKERS

American Federation Labor Opens Annual Convention in Vancouver

VANCOUVER, B. C., Oct. 5.—
(UP)—A charge that American bankers forced wage reductions in industry was made today in the annual report of the executive committee to the American Federation of Labor which convened here today.

Bankers, controlling industrial policies by their control of credit, acted on the fundamental hypothesis that labor should be kept always dependent, the 11 executive officers of the federation said in the 159 page report.

"It is the modern version of the master and servant philosophy that has curbed labor's efforts and ambitions for progress," the report commented. An opposite philosophy, that labor is a partner in production and should profit accordingly, was advanced by the committee,
which declared that high wages
were the basis of prosperity.

The executives urged a nine point program for relieving unemployment this winter. They recommended maintaining wages, shortening working hours, definite assurance of employment to remove a psychological barrier to spending, hiring of more men by all employers, enlarged public building, stronger public employment agencies, keeping young persons in school and out of work, job preferences for persons with dependents and financial relief from public and private funds.

The British Dole system of relief was termed "unjustified to economic and political requirements." The report warned, however, that workers might be driven to demanding a dole. "Owners of industry will be largely responsible for the enactment of unemployment insurance legislation if opinion becomes so crystallized as to demand compulsory unemployment insurance laws," the executives of the federation declared.

"During the extended period of unemployment the owners of industry have failed to offer either a plan or a remedy for unemployment. No response has been made to appeals of labor."

"Owners and managers have miserably failed. Ruthless discharge of millions of working men and women is an indictment of our unsound economic system and industrial situation," said the committee, in demanding job assurance, five day week, and shorter hours to spread employment.

"American people demand work.
They resent imposition of the dole.
They abhor charity. They must not and they will not be the victims of a paternalistic policy," said the report. "but it must be the work or unemployment insurance."

FARMERS TO RETAIN LANDS IN VALLEY

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 5.—(UP)—
Five hundred San Joaquin valley farmers were saved today from loss of their land and eviction from their homes for delinquent water assessments.

The Miller and Lux corporation, holder of tax sale certificates for 500 ranches in Merced, Madera and Fresno counties, announced it would deliver quiet claim deeds to all the property upon payment of the delinquent assessments, plus interest and a $5 transfer fee.

James E. Fickett, president of the corporation, announced an indefinite period will be allowed owners to redeem their properties.

The action will stand regardless of the outcome of test suits now being pressed by the 3-H Securities company to obtain deeds to tax sale
property in the Stevinson colony, Fickett said.

All his suicide efforts failing, Anderson started afoot for Turlock, two and a half miles distant, and near the city limits was arrested by a night officer who had been notified by Anderson's neighbors.

DEATHS

A WORD OF COMFORT

You are tempted to feel that sorrow has wrecked your life and left you like a broken reed. You think life has nothing more in store for you but pain. You cannot put your capacity for renewal under the touch of God's loving hand. He has tasks for you to perform which are mighty in His sight. They have to do with the elemental things of life; courage, kindness and faith. You are questioning God's love and His power when you repine. What you never accomplish in life is in your own strength you can do in His; and you will. The one you love yearning to see you bravely do your best. The best is better than you guess.

LABEL DAMAGE CASE STARTED IN COURT HERE

Randall Hood, attorney for F. C. Finkle in his $75,000 libel suit against Horace Head based on statements in the 1923 flood control bonds campaign, plunged right into the heart of the case when it opened in superior court today by calling Head to the witness stand first and questioning him in detail about his participation in the affair.

Head, a Santa Ana attorney who was counsel for the flood control district, said he entered the campaign after he had been told that Finkle, engineer for the Water Users association opposing the bonds, and his friends were putting proponents of the bonds on the defensive, getting most of the publicity and making such outrageous statements that someone had to go before the public and tell the facts or the voters would be misled.

Although he said he referred to Finkle in every talk he made, Head denied that Finkle's participation in the campaign was what led him into it. He said his only reason for entering was to help carry the bonds. Head said when he first was asked to enter the campaign he was in the superior court room where a conference was being held over the situation. He recalled that he said at that time that if he got into the affair he would say just what he thought and might not be very diplomatic and perhaps might do more harm than good for the cause of the bonds.

He denied that he had thought any answer would be judicious to induce the voters to favor the bonds. He said he only desired to accomplish what he set out to do.

Before Head was called, the court denied a motion to file an amended complaint. The case is being tried by Superior Judge Clarence Harden, of San Diego county, who recalled that Superior Judge James L. Allen already had denied a motion to strike and that the motion for the amended complaint was based upon the same issues.

The amended complaint would stress alleged damage to Finkle as a professional man rather than damage to him as an individual. Hood said he wished to eliminate the latter element from the case. R. Y. Williams, appearing for Head, with Col. M. B. Wellington, declared that it was impossible to separate Finkle's reputation as a man and his reputation as an engineer.

Spectators at the Eddie Martin Airport yesterday were given an additional thrill when the motor on the Curtiss baby pursuit plane, piloted by Eddie Martin, quit while the ship was in a spin. Martin made a beautiful "dead stick" landing. Martin put the tiny ship through a series of rolls, loops and spins that held the approximately 2500 spectators breathless during the exhibition.

MOTOR FAILS, FLIER LANDS SHIPS SAFELY

Following Martin's exhibition "Ace" Jackson, instructor at the field gave instructions in acrobatic flying to two of his students. Students taking the instructions yesterday were "Buddy" Atkins, Santa Ana, and Carl Keene, Pomona.

Bill Hottle and Johnny Martin, former pilots at the airport were at the field yesterday practicing blind flying in a specially constructed ship owned by the American Airways line for which the former Santa Ana pilots are now flying.

OLYMPICS BEAT FIREMEN

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 5.—The Los Angeles Fire department football team started out like it was going to be a blaze yesterday, but after 60 minutes of hot football, the San Francisco Olympic club was on the long end of a 7 to 6 score, and the firemen were functioning like wet skyrockets.

Plan Several New Classes at Night School Sessions

Because of numerous requests for certain night classes Dr. Percy R. Davis, city superintendent of schools, and Mrs. Golden Weston, of the adult education department, are attempting to secure accurate data as to prospective attendance in the event the classes are organized. To secure this data a series of meetings has been announced.

Those interested in formation of a night class in lip reading are urged to attend a meeting to be held tomorrow night at 7 o'clock in room 18, Julia Lathrop Junior High school. On Wednesday night persons interested in formation of a class in short story writing and poetry composition are asked to meet in room 40 of the same building.

Because of its industrial value an attempt is being made to organize a class in practical chemistry, which it is said would benefit workers in oil refineries, sugar factories, laundries and other places where chemical reactions are the basis of operation. Persons interested in such a course will meet Wednesday night in room 206 at the Frances Willard Junior High school.

In announcing these group meetings Mrs. Weston said that if persons who are interested in any of the three courses being considered but cannot attend the organization meetings this week will send a card giving their name, address and telephone number and the class in which they are interested, it will help the department in its survey.

FORMER ORANGE COUNTY RADIO MAN IS KILLED

Although automobile accidents in Orange county over the week end were fewer during the past two days than over any week end this year, according to reports gathered by The Register, eight persons reported injured in five accidents.

Joseph L. ("Jerry") Purcell, 31, of Long Beach, former employee of the advertising department of The Register and of radio station KREG, died at a Long Beach hospital yesterday of injuries suffered in an auto crash in Wilmington Saturday.

Purcell, who was widely known throughout the southland as a radio announcer and entertainer and who had been connected with many radio stations in Long Beach, was on the staff of KPAC in Los Angeles at the time of his death. He is survived by his widow, Helen M. Purcell; his mother, Mrs. May Stevens of Linton, Ind., and two sisters.

Child Is Hurt
Z. Hernandez of 312 Hathaway street, a small child, received a broken arm and cuts and bruises when she was run down by a car driven by F. L. Sherman of Santa Ana, route No. 6, at 2:40 p. m. Saturday. The child was playing near her home at Fourth and Hathaway streets at the time. The driver was not held.

Two persons were cut and bruised at 4 p. m. Saturday at Fourth and Bristol streets, when a car driven by Mrs. K. R. Brown of 2070 Oak street, owned by Andrew Hilda of the Robinson garage, driven by W. J. Ferber, according to a police report.

Mrs. Brown and Jay Rogers of 1066 West Fourth street were injured. They were taken to their homes. Mrs. Doris Rogers and two small children, also in the Brown car at the time, escaped injury.

L. A. Woman Injured
Miss Emma Tournell, 35, of 819 West Sixty-second street, Los Angeles, suffered several fractured ribs, cuts about the head and numerous bruises when the car in which she was riding with Delmar Durnell, 24, of 817½ West Sixty-seventh place, Los Angeles, turned over on the Coast highway near Aliso Beach yesterday.

The accident occurred, according to a report, when Durnell attempted to pass a line of cars, saw he did not have clearance and suddenly turned back, the wheels of his car striking soft dirt at the side of the road causing the machine to overturn.

Mrs. Tournell, Mrs. Beulah Durnell, wife of the driver, and Miss Katherine Parker, of Los Angeles, were removed to the Laguna Beach hospital in the ambulance of the Laguna Beach funeral home. Miss Parker had fainted, but was soon revived and was found to have suffered only an ankle injury.

Mrs. Durnell suffered an injury to her head.

'PARTY THIEF' GETS PURSES IN S. A. HOME

Santa Ana's "party burglar", absent now these many months, returned Saturday night to break into the home of Harry Harlow, 1920 North Ross street and steal two pocketbooks, according to a report filed with the city police.

Entrance into the house was made while a party was in progress. A back bedroom screen was unhooked and entrance made that way. The pocket books, property of Mrs. F. W. Sanford, 1441 Cypress street, and Mrs. K. A. King, Santa Ana, were taken from a bed. In Mrs. Sanford's pocket book was $5 in cash and a check for $3.50. There was two one dollar bills in the King pocket book. It was reported.

Officers Buckles and Pritchard made an investigation at 11 o'clock when the robbery was discovered, but found no trace of the burglar. A pocketbook, containing $8 in cash, was stolen from the office of the Blauer Store at 425 North Sycamore street, sometime Saturday afternoon, according to a police report. The purse was the property of Mrs. Bernice Harmon, an employee of the store.

Harry Porsch, caretaker of the Orange County Athletic club on the Delhi road, reported to officers that the club was entered sometime within the past several days and $10 worth of electric light globes and other small articles stolen.

BEACH MAN AND SISTER SHOT IN GUN ATTACK

John M. Richards, 33, 905 Delaware street, Huntington Beach, and his sister, Mrs. Eudora Holcomb, 32, shot Saturday by Mrs. Holcomb's estranged husband, Dr. J. Delany Holcomb, 48, at the latter's home in Los Angeles, have a chance of recovery, according to word from the Los Angeles General hospital and the Georgia Street hospital. Dr. Holcomb swallowed poison immediately after firing the shots and died instantly. The condition of each is serious, hospital nurses said this morning, but barring complications, the brother and sister will recover, it was said.

Mrs. Holcomb had been staying with her brother and his family in Huntington Beach. Her husband visited her Friday and spent the night there. Saturday morning the Holcombs and Richards and his wife and three children drove to Los Angeles. As the car stopped in the drive way of the Holcomb home, the latter suddenly pulled a gun from his pocket and fired once at his wife, the bullet striking her in the abdomen. Richards grappled with his brother-in-law and Holcomb fired point blank at him, the bullet penetrating Richards' left side.

Holcomb then ran toward the door but before reaching it, pulled a vial of poison from his pocket and drank the contents. He died in a few seconds.

According to Richards, the Holcombs had been separated but a short time. Holcomb had never made any death threats, the beach man said.

MAN MAY DIE DUE TO KNIFE JABS IN FIGHT

Joe Ogas, 21, La Jolla resident, is in the Orange county hospital, dangerously wounded, and sheriff's officers are today seeking his assailant in a knife fight which took place at the little Mexican settlement near Placentia, late Saturday night.

Ogas was taken to the Orange county hospital by friends early yesterday morning, but it was 10:20 o'clock yesterday before officers learned of the fight.

An interview with Ogas failed to give the police a clew as to the identity of the man who had stabbed him. Hospital attendants said today that Ogas may die. He is suffering from a severe cut in the neck and was stabbed in the chest. He told officers he did not know who stabbed him. He said he was out with a number of men, and they were all drunk but him, but he did not know why he was attacked.

ARREST THREE FOR ASSAULT AND ROBBERY

Charged with assault, three persons are being held in the county jail today, following an asserted attack on Alfredo Carrisoza, Talbert Mexican, near Talbert late Saturday night.

Carrisoza was badly beaten up and reported he was robbed of his suitcase and $28 in cash. He was taken to the county hospital where he was treated for severe cuts and bruises. Sheriff's officers reported the man had been struck with a club which had been wrapped.

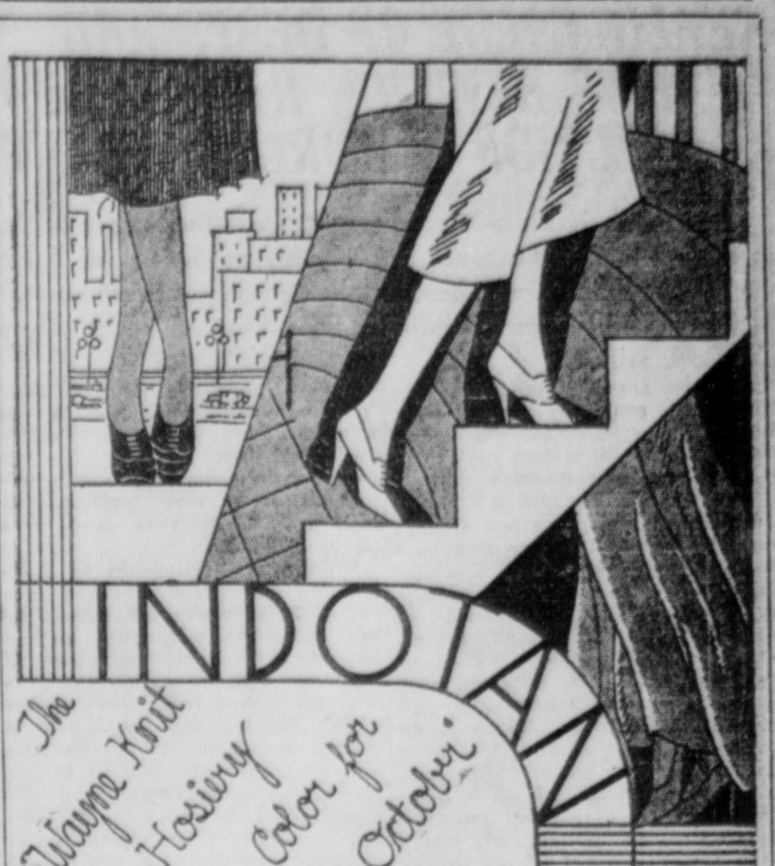

Tony Carlos, an Indian, and Jose and Rosalia Avila are being held in connection with the case, all booked at the jail for assault. Deputy Sheriffs McKelvey, Dukes and Nicholson, who are working on the case reported they found Carlos asleep in some bushes near Talbert and the suitcase beside him. Charges of highway robbery may also be filed against the three alleged assailants, they said.

BALLARD WILL ADDRESS P.-T.A. GROUPS HERE

An address on "The New Psychology and the Child" will be delivered by Dr. J. Hudson Ballard, head of the department of religion at Occidental college, before a joint meeting of the Santa Ana high school and Junior college Parent-Teacher associations next Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the high school auditorium.

Ballard's address will be the first of a series of four to be presented before the P.-T.A. group. The treatment of the subject matter is of equal interest to parents, teachers and all others having anything to do with children or youth, it is stated.

Last spring Ballard drew audiences of 1000 nightly when he delivered a series of talks during the church nights held in the First Methodist church here. He is well known here for his clear analysis of problems, especially in the field of religion and psychology, in simple and non-technical language.

Dr. Ballard holds degrees from four universities and is a member of Phi Beta Kappa. His A. B. degree was taken at the University of Southern California, A. M. at Columbia university, B. D. at Union Theological seminary and Ph. D. at New York university. For more than 20 years he has been a special student of psychology. He is constantly in demand for speaking engagements over the state, before student groups, academic audiences and church assemblies.

The Rev. George A. Warner, president of the high school and Junior college P.-T.A., arranged for Dr. Ballard to come here to speak. The rest of the program for the meeting is in charge of Mae O. Robbins, chairman of the program committee.

MEANS TO TALK ON DEMOCRATIC IDEAS

Featured on the Tustin Union High school program over KREG at 11 a. m. J. W. Means, principal of the school, will speak on the topic, "Our Changing Democratic Ideas." Following Means' talk the general science class will present a lesson. Tomorrow's lesson, appropriately enough is "Air."

The program will be closed with a short organ recital with Miss Mary McVey at the console.

3 RULES big help to BOWELS

What a joy to have the bowels move like clockwork, every day! It's easy, if you mind these simple rules of a famous old doctor:

1. Drink a big tumblerful of water before breakfast, and several times a day.
2. Get plenty of outdoor exercise without unduly fatiguing yourself.
3. Try for a bowel movement at exactly the same hour every day.

Everyone's bowels need help at times, but the thing to use is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. You'll get a thorough cleaning-out, and it won't leave your insides weak and watery. This family doctor's prescription is just fresh laxative herbs, pure pepsin, and other helpful ingredients that couldn't hurt a child. But how it wakes up those lazy bowels! How good you feel with your system rid of all that poisonous waste matter.

GOOD SAMARITAN, "MAKIN' THE GRADE," AIDS FAMILY

... but when a stranger, out of a job and broke, comes to Santa Ana and helps feed one of our own families in need, it looks like hard times haven't taken all the good things out of life anyway.

It may sound impossible, but that's what happened. The young fellow who turned the brick came to Santa Ana on a freight car. He was hungry. He "made the grade" at a bakeshop and then went to a meat market hoping for a bologna and or two. The fates were kind and he got a soupbone big enough to turn the jungles into a banquet hall.

Then came the story. While on his way "home" he met two little girls. They were going to shop for Mother and were very proud of the fact that she had entrusted them with part of her small store of nickels and dimes. Mother worked all day long, and they didn't have a daddy, and they got, oh, so lonesome sometimes.

That night the little girls and their mother had a nice big soupbone for supper, and bread that was light and sweet, fresh from the oven. And the stranger has traveled on. Perhaps he's still "making the grade."

Avocado Growers Plan Caravan to Ventura Section

Avocado growers of Orange county are invited to join in a caravan trip into Ventura and Santa Barbara counties next Friday for the purpose of inquiring into methods of orchard management, according to plans disclosed by Harold Wahlberg, county farm advisor.

The trip is in charge of Judge F. D. Hahn, chairman of the avocado department of the county farm bureau. The caravan of cars will start from the La Habra Citrus packing house at 6 o'clock, he announced. Camarillo, Ventura county, will be the first place visited. The touring farmers will attend demonstrations at three orchards in Ventura county.

After lunching at Ventura the party will go to Santa Barbara county, making stops at four orchards and inspecting the county avocado packing house.

ORANGE PASTOR GIVES TALK ON CHRISTIANITY

ORANGE, Oct. 5.—"What Shall We Dedicate This Year" was the subject of the morning sermon by the Rev. Franklin H. Minck at the Christian church. "Jesus Lover of My Soul," by Lorenz, was the anthem by the choir.

The Rev. Mr. Minck said in part: "The Sunday school plant of this church was dedicated two years ago today. A check was made at the church school service this morning and the truth was revealed that 37 of those present were present at the services in the old building, but the amazing truth was revealed that 47 of those present today had never been in the old building."

"Jacob went forth under the covenant of the old testament. The new testament covenant is a living sacrifice consecrated and acceptable to God by the merits of Jesus Christ. If you haven't really accepted Christ, you can't do those things by yourself. You must take Christ first. You must go in on the grace of Christ. You must be a Christian and all those things will come to you."

"Kawaga is the greatest Christian of the Orient. He established trade schools and taught Christianity to the workmen, who went out at night and preached. There are 200 converts a day in Japan today. One man had a vision. Japan is changing."

"There are two kinds of Americans, heaven and hell Americans and the hell Americans are the most conspicuous. 'As a man thinks so he is.' We need to follow Paul who said, 'One thing I do forgetting the things behind, I press forward to the goal of the high calling in Jesus Christ.'"

May Organize New Honorary Frat at Santa Ana Jaycee

Following last year's announcement by the National Inter-Collegiate Journalistic association that El Don, official publication of the associated students of Santa Ana Junior college, had won the All-American rating, highest award to be given by that body, Russell Roe, national president of Sigma Tau Epsilon, honorary journalistic fraternity, visited on the jaycee campus here recently to lay plans for the establishment of a chapter of the organization.

Roe, a student of Pasadena jaycee, where the first chapter of the fraternity was formed several years ago, conferred with various officials of the college, including Edgar M. Flowers, instructor of journalism, and Paul Wright, editor of El Don, on the possibility of getting approximately 20 students to sign up as pledges. If sufficient interest, is shown it is possible that a chapter may be established with formal initiation to be held just prior to the Christmas holiday period.

Although a comparatively new fraternity, Sigma Tau Epsilon already has chapters in all the western states, as far east as New Jersey and Pennsylvania, and in a number of southern state universities, Roe said.

England and Germany are now connected with twenty-three telephone circuits. Their western terminus is London. In Germany, nine terminate in Berlin, seven in Hamburg, two each in Cologne, Dusseldorf and Frankfurt-am-Main, and one in Bremen.

which it is alleged is due on a $25,000 promissory note.

L. P. Barnhart has brought suit for divorce against Edith D. Barnhart charging that she drinks intoxicating liquor to excess. They were married in 1917 and separated on May 30, 1931.

'SLIME PITS' DISCUSSED AT BROWN REVIVAL

ORANGE, Oct. 5.—"Slime Pits" was the subject of the sermon by John Brown last evening at the tabernacle on North Glassell and Walnut streets, given to a capacity house. Special music was given by Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Carp, of Whittier, converts of the meetings held in Anaheim recently. Prayer was offered by the Rev. M. Peck, of Fullerton.

The Arkansas trio will appear tonight. "Divine Healing" will be the subject of the talk Tuesday at 10 a. m. The "Great Women" will be the theme Wednesday evening, with the center section reserved for women. A talk for women and girls will be given Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. A mass meeting will be held Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, followed by the evening service at 7 o'clock, the last service of the campaign.

John Brown pictured the slime pits of Sodom in the days of Abraham and the slime pits of today, lawlessness, intemperance and immorality.

"In the olden days they fled from an honorable death in battle into the slime pits of Sodom," the evangelist said. "Around the world the slime pits have been opened. We are face to face with the threat of annihilation. Civilization is face to face with a crisis. The same vice that made Sodom a stench in the nostrils of the world is here today. America and the civilized world face a darkened day."

THERE HAVE always been dreamers searching for GOLD - - - the most precious of all commodities.

This has been caused by the fact that gold is the standard of the world . . . $20.67 per ounce is the fixed price of gold . . . and it has never changed . . . just think of it!

Prices of practically every article on the market today have dropped materially but Gold still remains the one exchange. There is a demand for MORE GOLD to stabilize credits, stimulate commerce and assure substantial rehabilitation.

The officers and directors of this mining company . . . which is located in Gila County, Arizona, invite you to join with them to finance further operations of a mine that was discovered in 1880.

Our engineers report by C. J. Pinson, E. M. states that "about 1,010 tons of ore are blocked out which samples about $25.27 per ton. The small amount of capital required, makes the property a very attractive one and certainly a good business risk that promises very large returns on the money invested."

PENTECOST IS SUNDAY TOPIC IN EL MODENA

EL MODENA, Oct. 5.—The Rev. Edward A. Moody, of Garden Grove, was the speaker at El Modena Friends church Sunday morning. He read for a lesson, John 17, after which he sang "Father's Letters."

He took as his subject "Pentecost" and used as a text Acts 1:8—"But ye shall receive power, after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you." He said in part:

"This is a great subject. This is the first time I have ever preached in a Friends church. I have always heard a good report from the Friends church and it has appealed to me for the things it stands for. I am a South Methodist but I have had a real Christian experience. We might belong to a number of churches, and not have a Christian among us. We are living in Christianity, no matter where we are. Let us forget about Friends and Methodists and worship God."

"It pays to tarry with God. What we need is to go back to Pentecost. I believe in putting the plow down to the beam, and if there is something in the human heart that needs tearing out, let us break it out. The church needs another Pentecost."

"The reason the Protestant Christians over the land are not meeting God's conditions is because they need to be of one mind and of one accord. The Baptists and the Presbyterians must greet each other as Christians; they need to get above such things as creeds. We cannot accede to every whim, but we can yoke up together. As a result we will have a revival of the old time religion. May God help us to have again the old time religion."

PRESBYTERIAN AID MEMBERS HOLD LUNCHEON

ORANGE, Oct. 5.—Additional funds have been provided for the chairman of the missionary boxes which are to be sent at Christmas to missions in which members of the Ladies' Aid of the First Presbyterian church are interested. Each chairman is allowed five dollars more than had been supplied previously. The decision was reached at the regular all day meeting of the organization last week.

Mrs. L. A. Durler and Mrs. Grace Hlatt are in charge of the box to be sent to Tucson, Mrs. W. E. Anderson and Mrs. Emma Honadel the one to be sent to the Owyhee Indians in Idaho, Mrs. Irvin Meyers the box to be sent to the Shoshone Indians, and Mrs. W. H. Johnson and Mrs. C. O. Adams.

Fellow the one to be sent to the Negro school in Oklahoma.

The meeting was marked by a luncheon at noon which was largely attended and a feature of which was the apple pie made by Mrs. W. E. Anderson, who has recently assumed charge of the luncheons, taking the place of Mrs. Fred H. Klahn, who has moved away from the city.

A letter was read from the Rev. S. M. Eldred, who is studying for the Presbyterian ministry and who has charge of a church at Mendocino while attending San Anselmo seminary.

Miss Sue Scarritt presided at the meeting and devotions were in charge of Mrs. W. A. Settle.

Social Held By Fruit Employees

ORANGE, Oct. 5.—A dinner dance and program marked the annual social meeting of officials and employees of the Consolidated Orange Growers' association. The long tables held low baskets of vivid fall blossoms and 268 persons shared the delectable dinner.

The program was in charge of Floyd Turner and included enjoyable selections by Dayton Alexander and his harmony trio, vocal solos by the Scheffer sisters and vocal solos by Miss Velma Saunders. Miss Grace Leinberger was accompanist for the musicians. Acrobatic dances were given by Miss Thelma Trickey and a tap dance by Nadine Ogden. KREG ASSISTS IN OBSERVANCE OF FIRE WEEK

During the lunch hour tomorrow the first Fire Prevention Program, under direction of Fire Chief John Luxembourg will be presented over station KREG as part of Santa Ana's observance of National Fire Prevention Week. The first broadcast in the series went on the air today.

This program will go on the air at 12:15 and continue until 12:30 p. m. A speaker to be named today will talk on fire menace and its prevention. In announcing this program Chief Luxembourg said today "It is important to get this fire prevention message into the homes of Santa Ana, as statistics have shown that it is in the home where the majority of fire deaths occur."

"According to latest statistics, 66 percent of all fire casualties are in the home. Leading causes are given as misuse of gasoline and kerosene, faulty heating equipment, defective electrical wiring and carelessness in the use of electrical apparatus."

"It is said that the number of home fires each day averages 1114. The financial loss involved is, of course, tremendous, but it is overshadowed by the human suffering which such fires cause. Another regrettable disclosure is that the dependent classes suffer most heavily. Deaths among women and children under 16 years of age, constituted 63.5 percent of last year's total fire deaths."

In quality and appeal, they have won a regular spot on KREG programs, appearing three times each week.

From 4:30 until 5 p. m. Jean Baldwin and Verna Helm will offer their "Stories in Music" and listeners who have not heard these girls are urged to tune in this evening. Their program, combining classical and popular songs, is a treat, studio officials declare.

Fit for All the Family

The Los Angeles Times is published for normal people, whose interests are wholesome and constructive.

The Times believes that most people want a clean newspaper. It believes that the great majority of men and women wish to be fair in their judgments, and to that end desire accuracy in what they read. It believes that to people of sound minds the onward sweep of the world—the countless acts and thoughts that are daily making history and that directly affect the welfare of all—is infinitely more interesting than the sordid details of filth and depravity.

The Times does not seek out and magnify things that are degrading; nor does it appeal to low emotions; nor does it color and falsify its news in an effort to scandalize rather than to print the facts.

Giving a true picture of life, and putting emphasis on the worth-while values, The Times is read uncensored in schools and colleges. And because the fathers and mothers of Southern California want the same constructive influence in their homes, The Times is subscribed to by more families than any other Pacific Coast newspaper.

The Los Angeles Times is the only Los Angeles newspaper owned and edited in Southern California. As an outright local institution, it is devoted wholeheartedly to the welfare of the section. Notwithstanding its large volume of news and its many outstanding features and supplements, it is delivered to the home at one of the lowest metropolitan subscription rates in the United States—90c a month, daily and Sunday included.

Closing Date of The Times' Anniversary Prize Contests, October 10, 1931... As previously announced, the Los Angeles Times will commemorate its fiftieth birthday on December 4, 1931, by issuing a voluminous "Fiftieth Anniversary Edition," in con-tion with which it has been conducting three anniversary prize contests. In compliance with the published rules, contestants are reminded that all manuscripts submitted for the contest must reach The Times on or before midnight, October 10, 1931.

Hooks and Slides

DID YOU KNOW THAT
Rogers Hornsby is always willing but can't win a fight...Hack Wilson is one of the scrappiest guys in the majors...Umpire Bill McGowan says he can lick all the Gordon Cobbledicks in the world. Cobbledick, Cleveland newspaperman, wrote a little piece about American League Umpiring in which McGowan's work was not praised...It happened just before leaving on his vacation and while McGowan was in Cleveland...A fan in the stands called to McGowan, asking how he liked the story...It was then that Mac, old boy, reddened and offered to take on the writer...The next day, Stuart Bell friendrival, wrote a few lines about Mac's white pants, concluding with the line "And I am not on my vacation, either."

CONSOLATION?
Pat Malone was told by Manager Hornsby he would have to pay the hospital bills for Chicago baseball writers Wayne Otto and Harold Johnson, whom Pat busted on the whiskers. Quite a hardship.

IMPETUOUS PAT
Pat, whose real front name by the way is Perce, is a pretty rough-and-ready sort of a fellow. When he was a boy at Altoona, Pa., he frequently made impetuous efforts to correct the impression any inquisitive folk might have had that he was a sissy because his name was Perce. They tell me that he did pretty well correcting the impression with fists.

BIG GUY, TOO
Mr. Malone is six feet tall and is listed on the roster as weighing 190. That probably was his poundage when he was a freshman at Juana College, but he rattles the beam at a bit more than that now.

THE RETORT COURTEOUS
Malone is said to have nudged Writer Johnson on the chin when Johnson asked him if he ever had heard of Mordca Brown. That is an odd question, come to think of it. Otto rushed to the defense of his friend while Hack Wilson was an innocent bystander. What Pat really took offense at, however, probably was a piece Johnson had written about Pat's conduct this year with the Cubs.

MATCH FOR HIM?
Looking over the roster of baseball writers, not many of whom are heavyweights, it is not easy to find an opponent for Perce. The Kid Hogan, of course, of The St. Louis Star, who used to be a fighter himself, but the Kid is only about five feet tall and couldn't even classify as a welter.

BELL WILLING
Stuart Bell, of the Cleveland Press, a director of the Baseball Writers' Association, would be willing to battle Malone any rainy afternoon, but Bell is only four feet tall and weighs only 106. Bell recently challenged Umpire Wilmington Will McGowan and made some nifty cracks concerning umpires who wear white pants.

CUNNINGHAM?
Maybe Boston Bill Cunningham would be the very guy. Bill was an All-American center at Dartmouth. He's about six feet tall, weighs about 196 and keeps in pretty good shape. Maybe it could be worked out. Bill probably would be glad to get the exercise.

HEY, PAT
Note to Mr. Malone: Did you ever hear of Walter Johnson?

OHIO IMPROVES
Coach Sam Williamson finds that his Ohio State squad this year is much better than last year's. It would be even better than that if Ohio didn't have to play Michigan and Northwestern.

TWO GAMES
Jimmy Wilson says that Wild Bill Hallahan is twice as good this season as last. He won one game from the A's in the 1930 world series. Jimmy thinks he can win two this fall. Very well, Bill, proceed.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?
They are still calling the national open champion Billy Burke, though the name he prefers is Bill. However, there may be some philosophical consolation for Mr. Burke in the fact that Bobby Jones does not like the name Edgely, preferring Bob, as he is called by his family and intimate friends.

NICE SPEECH
Before the Schmeling-Stribling fight in Cleveland last July, Jones was called to the ring for a short speech. He made just that, a short speech, consisting of, "This is no place for me," and sat right back down.

ROBBIE WITH PIRATES?
Rumor placed Uncle Robbie at the helm of the Pirate ship the other day. Obviously that never will come true. Robbie already has had enough front-office interference with his attempts to run a ball club in Brooklyn, and hardly would wish to go to Pittsburgh for the same kind of experience.

GRIMES, GROVE SERIES MOUND FOES Stars Take Four In Row From Porterville

TWIN VICTORY CLOSES SEASON FOR S. A. CLUB

With a six-month schedule of 60 night baseball games behind them, Santa Ana Stars disbanded today after winding up their long campaign with four straight victories over Porterville in the northern California champions' own stamping ground.

The Santa Anas came from behind for the third successive time to take the first game of Saturday's doubleheader, 7 to 4. Then they concluded the series by getting a 4-3 decision in the eighth inning of what was scheduled for a seven-inning second game.

"Jumpy" Joe Corneliuss pitched the opener and yielded only five hits, all of them in the first four innings. Rudy Heman turned in the second victory which was marred by another injury to Catcher "Benny" Wilcox's right hand index finger, recently broken. Leavitt Daley then went behind the bat and Corneliuss finished out the affair at shortstop. Wilcox's digit was re-injured while he was batting, a pitched ball hitting it.

Just as they did Thursday and Friday in the first two starts, Santa Ana overcame Porterville's early lead with late inning rallies. Corneliuss helped his own cause with a tremendous homer in the eighth which made the score 5-4. Then Santa Ana stepped out in the ninth and picked up another brace of tallies to put it on ice. George Buda, ace of the Porterville staff, beaten only once this season before the Stars drove into the northern town, was the victim of the belated attack.

In the aftermath, however, Santa Ana took the pace for the first time during the series. "Rosy" Merrill brought in a run in the first inning, and he and Heman scored again in the third, making it 3-0. Porterville tried desperately to put over its first win and did succeed in making single tallies in the third, fourth and fifth and force the abbreviated joust into an extra round. In the over-time period, Santa Ana went out and won its fourth straight game, and won its fourth straight game.

Beside playing first baseman Randolph Bell led all of Santa Ana's hitters during the northern games. He hit .562 in the four games. Second Baseman George Preble was second with a dandy mark of .421. Then came "Rosy" Merrill, .368; Leavitt Daley, .350; "Benny" Wilcox, .307; Wayne Nelson, .277; Joe Corneliuss and Rudy Heman, .272; Darwin Scott, .233, and Orv Schuchardt, .111.

THE BARE FACTS

This very attractive bit of display advertising speaks for itself, and for Miss Agnes Weber, too. The pretty Los Angeles girl, bursting with civic pride, determined to do her bit in advertising the 1932 Olympic games in her home city. Strips of adhesive tape on her back started it. Old Sol is supposed to do the rest. The result, frankly, should be a neat display of tan and white lettering.

NORTHWESTERN NOTRE DAME'S NEXT OPPONENT

By GEORGE KIRKSEY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
CHICAGO, Oct. 5.—(UP)—The outstanding football game of the week, and perhaps of the year, will bring together Notre Dame and Northwestern, arch enemies of the gridiron, at Soldier field Saturday.

A crowd of 120,000 is expected to pack Chicago's big lake front stadium for this game, which may send the winner on to the national championship as it did a year ago.

Both Notre Dame and Northwestern have been pointing towards this battle since the opening of practice three weeks ago and indicated in their first games last week that they apparently are as formidable as in 1930.

Notre Dame, using three teams, showed plenty of power and speed in defeating a good Indian eleven, 25-0, and scoring its twentieth straight football victory. The present string ties the all time winning streak made in 1919-20-21, and if Notre Dame wins from Northwestern it will be a new record for the "Fighting Irish."

Obviously covering up their strength after scoring three touchdowns in the first ten minutes of play, Northwestern won its opening game from a powerful Nebraska team, 19-7. A fumble and two forward passes netted Nebraska its touchdown.

Notre Dame hasn't located an enemy Frank Carideo yet, but they uncovered a trio of slaying backs to go with Markey Schwartz. They are Joe Skeeteki, Carl Cronin and Mike Koken. Skeeteki, substitute for Markey Bell last year, staged a 70-yard run for Notre Dame's first score. Cronin reeled off a 34-yard touchdown run.

Four inter-sectional and two conference games complete this week's Big Ten program. Purdue, joint favorite with Northwestern and Michigan for the Big Ten title, will meet Illinois' sophomore team at Lafayette. Michigan will oppose A. A. Stagg's 40th anniversary Chicago team at Ann Arbor.

Minnesota travels to Palo Alto, Cal., to meet Stanford and three Southern teams furnish the other inter-sectional opposition. Ohio State tackles Vanderbilt at Columbus. Wisconsin entertains Auburn at Madison, and Iowa goes to Dallas, Tex., to meet Texas Aggies.

All Big Ten teams, except Iowa and Indiana, breezed through last week's games. Minnesota defeated Oklahoma A. & M. 30-0. Ohio State overwhelmed Cincinnati, 67-6. Michigan trimmed Mt. Pleasant, 27-0, and Ypsilanti, 34-0. Wisconsin won from Bradley, 33-6, and North Dakota State, 12-7, and Purdue trounced Western Reserve, 28-0, and Coe, 19-0.

Iowa's crippled team fell before Pittsburgh, 20-0, and Indiana lost to Notre Dame.

TOUGH ON STANFORD
They are saying that the days of the "Big Red Team" is past at Stanford university. "Pop" Warner's 1931 line averages a mere 183 pounds, while the backs, hardly more than midgets, average only 177 pounds.

OLIVER SCOUTS SAN DIEGO AS CLASSIC NEARS

"Tex" Oliver and Bill Foote, Santa Ana high school football coaches, personally scouted San Diego in the Hilltoppers' non-conference game with Redondo Beach Saturday and they will make San Diego's plays the object of another searching examination this week when the Hilltoppers open their Coast Prep league schedule at Pasadena.

The scouting expedition of the Saint "head men" is proof that Santa Ana, from now on, will "point" for the San Diego game which opens the league season October 17. The Saints will try to take their doubleheader this week end in stride.

The two games on the schedule come Friday and Saturday, the first at Tustin, the second here with the San Diego Army and Navy junior college.

Coach Oliver will divide his squad for the twin bill, using a mixed eleven in both contests.

Oliver returned from San Diego with plenty of praise for Coach Hobbs Adams' blue machine, which beat Redondo 25-7. Saturday before last San Diego defeated San Bernardino, 32-13.

"They're either big or fast," the coach said, "and they're bound to be tough. King Hall, the San Diego captain, weighs about 215. He's a brother of Bob Hall of U. S. C. and plays tackle. This is Hall's fourth year on the San Diego team. Burchard, the other tackle, weighs about 185. Center Giddings will hit the beams at about 203.

"The rest of the squad isn't quite as large as usual, perhaps, but is considerably faster. 'Mushy' Pollock, a 128-pounder, is especially slippery. He's the best sprinter on San Diego's team. Dave Wynne, Adams' new quarterback from El Centro, will require plenty of attention, too. The other backs, Gentles and Arnett, are good blockers.

"I haven't seen Long Beach or Alhambra, but offhand I should be safe in saying that San Diego is the team to beat for the Coast league championship.

"Right now, San Diego has an edge on us but if my boys keep improving as rapidly as they have in the past three weeks, we should have an even chance October 17."

Santa Ana's big Armistice Day celebration game is still up in the air.

Orange county's November 11 classic will be held at Poly field this year, with the local high school the host, and the Saints have been looking around for a drawing card ever since football has been street corner gossip again.

Santa Ana made formal application to the C. I. F. Saturday for a game with Phoenix, Ariz., permission of that body being necessary whenever a California school plays an institution outside the state, but the C. I. F. refused the bid although the American Legion was behind the movement solidly.

Santa Barbara or Whittier remain the only possible opponents now, with Whittier the probably selection.

"Toy" Blower, Santa Ana left halfback and captain, favoring a sore knee, is the only cripple on the Saint squad now.

Blower was slightly injured in the Compton game here Friday. Coach Oliver thinks his leader will be in shape for the non-league doubleheader coming up this week.

Floyd Montgomery, the Saint's hardest driving back, who saw little action against Compton, has virtually recovered from wrist injuries, and Clyde Moesser, guard, is free of ankle bruises, too.

MURMI'S RECORD IN MILE RUN LOWERED
PARIS, Oct. 5.—(UP)—Paavo Nurmi's world record of 4 minutes 10 and 2-5 seconds for the mile was shattered here yesterday by Jules Ladoumergue, French star, who covered the distance in 4 minutes 9 and 1-5 seconds. Nurmi's mark had stood since August 23, 1923.

ARMY TIES GRAY FOG
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 5.—(UP)—The University of San Francisco was held to a 6-6 tie by the West Coast Army here yesterday when both teams failed to convert after touchdowns. The Fogmen scored an intercepted pass in the first quarter and the Army made its touchdown through the Fogmen in the third quarter. The Fogmen had been favorites to win after their 25 to 0 victory last week over Brigham Young university of Utah.

'SPARKY' BACK

His injured ankle much improved, "Sparky" Adams, diminutive third baseman and lead-off man in the batting order for the St. Louis Cardinals, was expected in the world series lineup today for the first time.

TROJANS RATED TEAM TO BEAT FOR GRID TITLE

By JAMES S. SHEEHY
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 5.—Southern California's smashing 30 to 0 defeat of a potentially powerful Oregon State eleven restored the Trojans today as the team to beat for the Pacific Coast conference football championship.

Coach Jones' men were favorites but the big score perhaps was the real upset of a week-end in which all other favorites passed and ran to victory. St. Mary's clipped California 14 to 0; Washington State college beat U. C. L. A. 13 to 0; "Doc" Spears' Oregon team showed latent possibilities taking Idaho, 9 to 0, and Washington easily whipped Montana, 25 to 0. Stanford was barely able to defeat Santa Clara, 6 to 0.

Apparently St. Mary's "made" Southern California. The Trojans came back after the beating a much chastened team and battered Oregon State mercilessly under a midsummer sun at the Los Angeles Coliseum. The loss of Baker in the St. Mary's game necessitated moving.

"Rosy" Rosenberg, big Jewish sophomore, to the important running guard post. This boy cut down the State defense as wheat before a harvest.

Gus Shaver, Jim Musick and Orv Mohler followed Rosenberg. Orv Mohler and ripped State's line to shreds. Arbelbide and Pinkert also starred, while Hal Moe, State's line blocking back, was easily Coach Schissler's outstanding player.

At Moraga they acclaim "Slip" Madigan as a second Rockne. This crusading, rapier-like personality "took" his second conference eleven on successive Saturdays. The Gaels beat California as they did Southern California—with intelligence, timely passes. In the first two aerials brought the ball to the two-yard line and Quarterback Fletcher scored on a line plunge.

Washington State, last year's champions, found U. C. L. A. stubborn but had the punch to get two touchdowns in the second period. Dahlen, Davis and Colburn alternated in thrusts and Dahlen scored the first touchdown. Colburn slashed two yards for the second score. Fletcher, Duncan and Keblie starred for the Bruins. The Cougars play Southern California next Saturday.

Oregon showed a quartet of fine, promising backs beating Idaho, 9 to 0. Joe Lillard, colored star; Mark Temple, Leighton Gee and "Bud" Pozzo scintillated. Lillard scored a touchdown late in the fourth period on an eight yard, wide sweep around Idaho's left end. Moeller converted. Oregon scored a safety in the second period when Sather was downed behind his own goal following a bad pass from center. Oregon probably will be a match for Washington next Saturday.

Southern California leaguers, entrants in the "big time" 900-average circuit, begin their season's Thursday night. The Hancock Gasoline squad rolls at home against McDonald's Sporting Goods of Long Beach while Sunset Gasoline, the other Santa Ana quintet, goes to the Arcade alleys in Long Beach to play Tighe's Cafeteria.

BOWLING
Pin-topping begins in earnest at the Bowlers' Inn this week. Santa Ana's 1931-32 bowling season officially opening with five traveling league teams in action. Mercantile trundlers start "War" contest at the Santa Ana alleys. A's Auto Service and Pessen's Radio Shop, both home quintets, clashing in their season opener.

Women bowlers swing into action Wednesday with the Givens-Cannon Pharmacy team of Santa Ana traveling to the Bimini Bowl, Los Angeles, to oppose Richter's Kennels.

Washington used reserves plentifully in beating Montana, 25 to 0. Hufford and Franklin ran 50 and 65 yards for touchdowns.

Stanford scored a fourth quarter touchdown to defeat Santa Clara, 6-0. The drive started from the Santa Clara 47-yard line after three previous scoring threats had been halted.

DONS IN 13-0 GRID TRIUMPH OVER RIVERSIDE

Clouds of gloom which have hovered over the football grounds of Santa Ana junior college for the past three weeks had moved today into another territory, driven away by Santa Ana's brilliant 13-to-0 victory over Coach Jesse Mortensen's strong Riverside junior college eleven at Poly field Saturday.

Sensational performances by Dante Siracusa, Emmett Seacord and Jimmie Hall, coupled by occasional spurts of surprising defensive teamwork, featured the part which Coach Bill Cook's Santa Ana Dons played in their first home contest. The Dons scored in the second and fourth quarters, their first touchdown coming on a line plunge by Seacord and the second on an underhand pass from Hideo Higashi to Solon Bell.

Eastern division champions of 1930, Riverside started off like a gust of wind, sweeping from its own 40-yard line to Santa Ana's 10-yard mark in a series of five plays. Nichols, highlight of the Tiger offense, broke loose for 27 yards around left end, and, following three-yard gains by himself and Graham, halfback, skirted around the right side of the line for 17 yards, making the Dons uneasy on their 10-yard line. A 15-yard penalty for holding was given Riverside, but a short forward pass from Nichols to Rucker placed the ball back on Santa Ana's 10-yard mark.

Seacord intercepted Nichols' next pass and wrecked the Tiger scoring chances. An exchange of punts placed the ball in the hands of Higashi, who raced around left end from Santa Ana's 18 to 49-yard mark. The remaining few minutes of the first quarter saw both Santa Ana and Riverside engaged in fumbles, interceptions and kicks, with neither eleven gaining advantage.

Going into the second quarter with the ball on their own 45-yard line, the Dons, thanks to Seacord and David Maxwell, worked their way through the Tiger defense to Riverside's 20-yard mark. Siracusa, substituting for Higashi, fumbled on the next play, however, and Riverside kicked out of dangerous territory.

More than making up for his error, Siracusa caught Nichols' punt on Santa Ana's 23-yard line and ran 35 yards, brushing off five opponents before being downed on Riverside's 37-yard mark. Siracusa, on the next two plays, gained six yards through right tackle, and a beautiful pass, Seacord to Maxwell, placed the ball within 15 yards of the Riverside goal. Siracusa hit center for eight yards, Riverside was penalized five for offside, and in two attempts Seacord plunged over the line for the first Don touchdown of the season. His conversion kick went wide.

Riverside Passes Thrill
Outside of two brilliant plays, the third quarter moved along without the thrills of the two preceding periods. Gaining considerable yardage through two exchanges of punts, Nichols took the ball on the 60-yard line and passed to Santa Ana's 20, where three Dons interfered with the Tiger receiver, giving Riverside the ball. Nichols tried another pass over the Don goal, but Rucker, right end, was unable to reach it.

"Gib" Meisinger, center, accounted for the other thrill late in the third quarter, when he blocked Nichols' punt on Riverside's 40-yard line and recovered the ball on the Tigers' 25, as the quarter came to an end. It was this play that paved the way for Santa Ana's other touchdown.

After making 10 yards to Riverside's 15-yard mark, Santa Ana was handed a 15-yard penalty, but an eight-yard gain by Don Smith and two consecutive gains by Siracusa, 10 and 11 yards, respectively, put the Dons in scoring distance again.

DON'T BE AFRAID!
No, children, this is not a "bogy" man. He's just an ordinary college youth wearing a specially-designed football helmet. The young man behind the mask is Fred Hartman, 200-pound varsity guard at the University of Missouri. He will wear the helmet in Missouri's games this fall.

PRESIDENT AT GAME: MACKS STILL FAVORED
By L. S. CAMERON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 5.—(UP)—Each fortified by one victory in the opening skirmishes held in the west, the St. Louis Cardinals and the Philadelphia Athletics meet in the third game of their series to decide the 1931 baseball championship here today. President Hoover was to be the number 1 fan.

A drab series when it started, it has acquired a fresh and exciting lease on life, thanks to the Cardinals' stirring victory in the second game. And now, with "Lefty" Grove, Athletics' speed ball king and world's greatest pitcher, established as something of a question mark because of a blistered finger, the championship became a wide open competition.

Of course, Grove may not take the firing line today. "Rube" Walberg, who throws a plenty mean left-handed ball, is rarin' to go. And so is George Earnshaw, who although he worked the last game in St. Louis, is so strong that a one day rest restores him to normal. Then there's Waite Hoyt, with all his cunning, and an overhand speeder that comes steaming over the plate knee high. All and any of these men may work.

"Gabby" Street, Cards manager, has said that Burleigh Grimes, rough and ready right-hander of the St. Louis staff, will see duty today. It's probable that no pitcher eligible for this series was more anxious to start than Grimes. The Cards, for the first time since the series started, was to have its full strength. "Sparky" Adams, regular third baseman of the National league club has been chosen, tentatively at least, to start.

If Grove pitches, Wally Roettger, is expected to return to his rightfield position which was filled by George Watkins in the second game. Thus, except for the probability that Adams will play third and with Grimes pitching, the lineups are to be the same as for the opener.

Despite the confidence that the second game victory has given the Cards, Athletics remained series betting favorites at odds of 2 to 1, and were favored 1 to 2 to win today's game. There was, however, almost no betting.

SEALS, HOLLYWOOD OPEN PLAY TUESDAY
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 5.—(UP)—Six of the teams in the Pacific Coast league ended their season today while the San Francisco Seals and Hollywood Stars prepared for a play-off series to decide the winner of the 1931 pennant.

The Seals captured the second half season title while Hollywood won the first half. The Stars have held the pennant for the last two years.

The championship series will start here tomorrow night. Second and third games will be played the following nights and then the teams will move to Wrigley field, Los Angeles.

S. A. HUNTERS KILL 2 BUCKS IN COUNTY
Instead of spending a week and traveling over the state to get deer, four Santa Ana hunters went out yesterday morning at 8:30 o'clock into Orange county's back country in the Silverado district and by 6 o'clock in the evening were back with two 2-point bucks. The hunters were Willie Woods, C. D. Grimes and Tom LeMay, all employed at the county road department, and Ernest Laue, of the National Lead company, Santa Ana.

DIPLOMAT WILL SPEAK AT J. C.
HERE TUESDAY

Tomorrow morning at the regular Tuesday assembly students of the Santa Ana Junior college and their friends and parents will have an opportunity to hear Dr. Kull Kahn, wealthy art patron of Laguna Beach, who was Persian ambassador at Washington during Taft's and Roosevelt's administrations. Dr. Kahn will speak on "Persia, the Past and Present."

Since 1924 Dr. Kahn has been on a leave of absence and much of his time in recent years has been spent in private business here. Following his serving as a delegate to the Versailles Peace Conference in 1919, Dr. Kahn served as ambassador to Constantinople in 1921 and as Grand Master of the Court of H. R. H. the Crown Prince of Persia during the regency. From that time until 1924 he served as minister to the Republic of the Caucasus. George Griffith, president of the

Headley Motors
Given Judgment

Judgment in favor of the Headley Motor Car company was given by Justice Kenneth Morrison Saturday in the case of Thomas L. Turner, manager of the Portland baseball team, against Headley for damages of $189 to his automobile. Turner claimed that through neglect an employee of Headley had left a rubber apron over the motor of his car after it had been washed at the Headley garage, and this caused the motor to overheat and set fire to the machine.

Hostess Plans Dinner For Birthday of Her Husband

In entertaining a group of guests at dinner last night, Mrs. Lloyd Stevens, 548 North Garnsey street, complimented her husband upon his birthday anniversary and made the occasion an extremely pleasant one for the host and his friends.

The table where the merry group was assembled for the dinner was a charming study in pink and green, with a low bowl of roses and their foliage gracing the center of the table. While slim pink tapers in green holders contributed a soft glow and completed the color harmony.

Covers were placed for the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Stevens and their little daughter, Betty Jeanne; Mrs. Ella Faupel and little daughter, Doris Faupel; Mrs. Marilla Stevens, mother of the host; Mrs. L. M. Hutchins, mother of the hostess; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Talcott of Fullerton; Miss Opal Brownlow and W. Hunter Leach.

Miss Brownlow assisted her sister in serving the dinner menu which closed with a dessert course in which a delectable angel food cake was given prominence. It bore 26 candles, alternately pink and green, and was placed before the host for him to cut the first slice.

Just preceding the serving of the dessert course, little Miss Betty Jeanne excused herself from the table to return after a few minutes, wheeling her doll carriage laden with gifts for her father from his assembled friends.

D. A. R. Members Spend Pleasant Afternoon In Beach Home

The beach home of Mrs. E. G. Summers at Three Arches was the delightful setting on Saturday for the first fall meeting of the Santa Ana chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution. About 60 members with their guests enjoyed the hospitality of the spacious home.

In a characteristically friendly manner, Mrs. Minnie C. Holmes, the regent greeted the assembled gathering and welcomed the guests. In answer to the call for reports from committee Mrs. S. W. Stanley, chairman of program and year book, announced an exchange of speakers for the next two meetings. Mrs. Earl Morris appearing on November 7 and the Rev. Graham Hunter on December 5. A vote of the Chapter was unanimous to advance the January meeting to the 8th, to avoid conflicting with the New Year holidays.

A quick response was made to Mrs. C. F. Summers, chairman of conservation and thrift, and members of the Memory Lane chapter, when she asked that the chapter undertake the purchase of twenty-five trees for the memorial highway which is planned to connect Irvine park with Recreation park in Long Beach. Several individual members offered to purchase one or more trees to be planted in the group donated by the chapter. Reports were made by Mrs. Henry W. Guthrie, Americanization chairman and by Mrs. Edith Thatcher, education chairman. Miss Mabel McFadden, Community Chest worker, outlined briefly the needs of the chest, and in response to her talk the chapter made a $10 donation.

As part of the entertainment for the afternoon, Irma Huffman May gave the dramatic story of the writing of the Star Spangled Banner, after which the flag was brought in by Mrs. Kenneth Burns and the members joined in singing one verse of the famous song. A beautiful memorial service was conducted by Mrs. C. F. Smith for the four members of the chapter, Mrs. Emeline B. Harmon, honorary member, Mrs. A. J. Lahey, Mrs. E. G. Holmes, and Mrs. Elmore Hudson, who had passed away during the last year.

Mrs. Hudson occupied the post of chaplain in the chapter for many years and she had the distinction of being the only actual granddaughter of a Revolutionary hero in the local organization. It was her wish that the chapter be given her gavel made of the wood of the historic frigate Constitution, and it was in respect to her mother's wish that Mrs. Claude E. Brown presented the interesting relic.

Button dahlias in tawny fall colors graced the tea table where Mrs. O. M. Robbins and Mrs. L. G. Swales were asked to preside. Dainty refreshments were served by Mrs. Summers, who was assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Harvey Smith, and her committee, Mrs. Jennie Crawford, Mrs. Joseph Albright, Mrs. L. W. Forester, Mrs. C. E. Brown, Mrs. C. G. Chapman and Miss Abbie Chapman.

The Southern California debating team took part in 37 debates last year, winning in every case, and is anticipating another successful year.

HILLS BROS' METHOD OF ROASTING COFFEE ALWAYS ACCURATE

Patented, Exclusive Process—Controlled Roasting—Creates Marvelous, Unvarying Flavor

Just as the accuracy of bewhiskered Father Time's hour-glass depends upon an even, continuous flow . . . a little at a time . . . so the matchless, unvarying flavor of Hills Bros. Coffee is produced by Controlled Roasting—Hills Bros' patented process that roasts evenly, continuously . . . a little at a time.

This continuous process has advantages over ordinary roasting methods. It guarantees a perfect roast for every berry in the blend. Bulk-roasting doesn't insure such a thing. Sometimes the coffee is roasted right. But frequently, it may be underdone or overdone, with an unpleasant flavor resulting. That can't happen to Hills Bros. Coffee! Every pound is developed to perfection—to the fullest and finest flavor. It is a flavor no other coffee has, because no other is roasted the same way.

Vacuum cans keep Hills Bros. Coffee ever-fresh. Air, which destroys the flavor of coffee, is removed and kept out of these cans. Even ordinary, "air-tight" cans won't keep coffee fresh. Order Hills Bros. Coffee today. Ask for it by name, and look for the Arab trademark on the can.

A New Cooked Cereal

Wouldn't you like to try a new cooked cereal, one that would be easy to eat, good for your health, and at the same time do your little part towards using up this tremendous wheat surplus that seems to be upsetting the economic balance of the farmer?

EAT COOKED WHEAT

I was talking about it to an aged Englishwoman and she told me that she was brought up on these cooked whole-grain cereals. She said not only did they eat cooked wheat, but rye and other grains as well. But we'll confine ourselves to the wheat. Here is how you do it: Get from a store that specializes in whole grain flours, a few pounds of wheat, or buy it from a feed store, and let it be "winter" wheat because of its heavy protein content. Wash a cupful (it is best to try small amounts until you get it to your liking) and soak in warm water for an hour, then put in plenty of hot water, a little salt, in a double boiler, bring to a boil, then set the heat on the wheat will just simmer. Cook for at least six hours, better if cooked all night as we used to cook oatmeal. When cooked it is served with whole milk and a little sugar, or with butter and sugar.

Try it, and see how good this new-old cereal really is.

CIRCUS COMEDY AT WEST COAST PLEASES MANY

There have been circus pictures galore in the history of motion pictures, some of them devoted to a dramatic theme, others to comedy, but the film that embraces all these elements against that ever colorful circus background, is "Side Show," the Warner Bros. picture which opened last night at the Fox West Coast theater.

Winnie Lightner is here cast in the finest role of her career. You can always depend on her comedy being fresh and spontaneous, and she provides it in ample quantity in "Side Show." Opportunity is given her in this respect when she doubles for the cannibal, the fire driver, the hulu dancer and various other side show attractions.

Besides all this, she is the central figure in a dramatic love story which forms the basis of the film.

She is in love with the Barker, played by Donald Cook, and their affair sails smoothly until her younger sister, Evalyn Knapp, insists on joining the circus. Ignorant of her sister's affair, Evalyn falls in love with Cook. The story develops into a conflict between Winnie's love for the Barker and for her sister, whose happiness she seeks.

'SIT TIGHT' SHOWS AT WALKER STATE

If any doubts have existed as to whether Winnie Lightner and Joe E. Brown are the funniest people in the talkies, it is dispelled by "Sit Tight," the Warner Bros. and Vitaphone production which opened at the Walker's State theater last night.

Winnie appears as hard-boiled Dr. O'Neil, owner of a health institute where the patients, male and female, are pounded, stretched, steamed, psycho-analyzed, and otherwise maltreated, in an effort to become the Venuses and Adoneses that nature evidently didn't intend them to be. Dr. O'Neil is also interested in the fight game, and hopes to discover and develop champion material in the course of her work.

Joe E. Brown is her doubtful assistant who calls himself Jojo the Tiger and brags without end of the puns he has knocked out and the medals he has won. Jojo has an eye for feminine charms, and causes screaming rough house among the lady patients. Winnie is compelled to resort to her most hard-swatting tactics to keep him in proper submission.

'SQUAW MAN' ONE OF BEST FILMS OF YEAR

Cecil B. DeMille's M-G-M production, "The Squaw Man," which opened last night at the Fox Broadway theater, presents admirably in talking picture form one of the three most successful plays the American stage has known. The other two are "Ben Hur" and "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

With a magnificent investiture of old English castles and authentic Arizona scenery, "The Squaw Man" tells vividly and with full regard for the new talkie technique, Edwin Milton Royle's story of an Englishman who leaves his country, taking on his shoulders a disgrace which belongs to another, becoming an Arizona ranch owner, and the husband of an Indian.

The situation, which has gripped audiences unfailingly since William Faversham introduced the play in 1905, is the arrival of the girl he loved in England, to find him the father of a seven-year-old boy, half-Apache Indian.

An unusually fine cast interprets this powerful and thrilling story. Warner Baxter is his usual splendid self as Jim Carston, the role created by Faversham and played on the silent screen by Dustin Farnum and Elliott Dexter. The two feminine leads are Lupe Velez, as the Indian Natuerlich, which she etches with strongly drawn strokes, and Eleanor Boardman, who gives a very acceptable Lady Diana.

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY HAI COCHRAN — PICTURES BY KNICK

"That sloth is lazy as can be," replied the Travel Man. "And he won't bother to do any tricks except to swing around. You see, he swings the livelong day upon the branches. That's his play." Then Clowzy said, "You'd think that he would topple to the ground."

"Oh, no," said Scouty. "His sharp claws will hold him very safe because they're long and curved and grip a limb like you would with your hand. Some times a sloth comes to the ground and very slowly moves around. I've often seen the prints of one stretched out across the sand."

Then Coppy said, "They're hard to see when hanging out of some big tree. That is because their color's like the leaves. They harmonize. Please tell us, Mister Travel Man, just what they live on, if you can. They must eat quite a bit to grow to such a nice fat size."

The Travel Man replied, "Well, son, right on the tree their eating's done. They live on leaves and nice wild fruit and shoots out of the trees. They simply hang and eat until they feel that they have had their fill. And then they fall asleep while hanging to the limb, with ease."

Soon Coppy said, "Well, we have seen enough of him and I am keen to move along to other sights. Let's take a river ride. The Rio Cambu's right near by. To get a boat we ought to try." So that is what the whole bunch did. They piled in, side by side.

They rode for 'bout an hour or more and then slid right up to the shore. "Oh, look!" cried Scouty. "There's a trap. A jaguar's inside. Let's find out what it's all about. We're safe. The beast cannot get out." "I'll bet that it has just been trapped," we Clowzy loudly cried. (Copyright, 1931, NEA Service, Inc.)

300 Persons Attend Cabin Dedication In Fullerton

DR. COOKMAN IN TALK ON BIRDS BEFORE CROWD

FULLERTON, Oct. 5.—"The spirit of service and altruism is exemplified in this action of yours," said Harry May, secretary of the Fullerton Chamber of Commerce, to John Gregory, president of the local Iszaak Walton league, as he accepted the keys to the new cabin. This action formally presented the building to the community for its future use, as the conclusion of dedication ceremonies held yesterday afternoon in Hillcrest park.

More than 300 people had gathered at the park to take part in a barbecue prepared for the occasion. Representatives of the Iszaak Walton league, members of the city council, members of the league and their friends joined in the service.

With W. J. Carmichael acting as master of ceremonies, Mayor Hale of Fullerton was introduced. Hale paid a tribute to the local members of the league for their enterprise and initiative in erecting the club house which now becomes the property of the city of Fullerton for use by the people and the different organizations.

Dave Vasebinder, of Upland, who is president of the Southern California council of the Iszaak Walton league, was introduced by Carmichael.

The principal speaker of the day, Dr. Alfred Cookman, of Pomona college, was introduced by Vasebinder as one of the foremost naturalists in the country.

He delivered a spirited talk to an interested audience on birds.

He spoke of the vanishing game in Southern California and commended the work of the league in its efforts at conservation. He showed to his crowd a large number of mounted birds and explained their habits. He spoke particularly of the quail, the state bird of California. He said: "You can tell your friends that real progress is now being made in restocking Southern California with this delightful game bird; that there will be no extermination of this bird, as has been feared; that incubators are now built to hatch out thousands of quail in the immediate future; and that quail in Southern California is on the increase."

E. B. Tozier's Orange county band gave a musical program. Arch Raitt was in charge of the barbecue. Mrs. Harry Sellers formally christened the building by breaking a bottle of orange juice over the stones of the large fire place. Rev. F. E. Hawes, pastor of the First Baptist church, gave the invocation.

The teachers of the Westminster schools are to be given a party by the P.T.A. on the evening of October 22.

Receipts Of Post Office On Increase

GARDEN GROVE, Oct. 5.—Postal receipts at the Garden Grove post office for the month of September show a slight increase over the month of September, 1930. Receipts for the month just closed amounted to $434.04, as compared with $399.68 for the month of September, 1930, representing a gain of $34.36.

Postal receipts for the nine-month period from January 1, 1931, to September 30 remain the same as for the same period last year. Receipts for the nine months this year totaled $6720.45. Last year receipts for the same period amounted to $6718.93.

SAFETY FACTS PRESENTED AT CLUB SESSION

COSTA MESA, Oct. 5.—Captain Henry Meehan of the state traffic patrol spoke on "Safety" before the Friday afternoon club at the clubhouse Friday.

During August, 2586 violators were stopped. Of that number only 342 had arrest citations; 200 of the above arrests were for illegal headlights, the balance speeding and illegal driving.

"During August, the toll of deaths from accidents in the state was 244, the largest on record this year. November, 1930, exceeded, with a death rate of 258. Statistics prove that 80 per cent of the accidents could have been avoided. Most of the accidents occur on the wide open highways, the result of speeding and passing cars on a hill or curve."

Captain Meehan emphasized the fact that passing on the right side was not permissible on the highways; only in cities where there are three or four lines of traffic. The new work of education and protection for school children of Orange county was described.

The work of the juvenile courts of Orange county was described by Judge Homer Ames. Informality and a spirit of helpfulness, with a lack of court severity, also no publicity of court charges, mark the procedure of the juvenile courts. The judge makes the final decision. Out of 73 cases in August, 43 were settled out of court.

Mrs. E. M. Burris was unanimously elected to membership.

Mrs. A. P. Nelson is junior membership leader and announced the second and fourth Thursdays of each month as junior club days. Mrs. H. Schick and Mrs. J. Addison served tea and wafers in the sunroom.

SAN CLEMENTE, Oct. 5.—The Jennings brothers of Los Angeles, air riders, staged a glider show at San Clemente Sunday. The three brothers, Walter, Richard and Everett Jennings, and Lin Harris made nine flights off the Spanish village hills and all declared this city ideal for gliding.

A car pulled the glider to the top of the hill on a sled. Then the car, attached to the glider by a long rope, pulled the glider into the air and away it sailed along the mountain ridges. All landings were made back of the Bank of America building where the car again was used to pull the glider to the top of the hill.

MELLIE DUNHAM IS DEAD

Mellie Dunham was the old fiddler who was discovered by Henry Ford way up in Maine, or, perhaps, better down in Maine, and for a brief season became a national fiddler on the vaudeville stage. He was an unique old fellow, and during his brief period of fame he had the time of his life. It was soon found that he was just an ordinary country fiddler, and when the public curiosity was satisfied he sank back into the obscurity from which he was momentarily lifted.

Now that the old fellow has passed on, the dramatic critics are telling some interesting stories of his tour through the country. Of course, he was exploited by a group of men who are always on the hunt for novelties. The vaudeville theater proprietors were eager to book him in the interest of the receipts at the box office. Thousands turned out to hear Mellie play, and to hear him and his wife say a few words on the stage. But the old fellow was only saved from being a joke by the ingenious devices of the vaudeville managers. The first rehearsal revealed that Mellie would be a joke, and therefore the orchestra was instructed to play so loud during his performance that the sound of his fiddle could not be heard above the orchestral din. The audience observed Mellie saw away on his fiddle; it enjoyed his antics; but that was all there was to it.

The same curiosity that has made the side show of an American circus a national institution gave Mellie his chance to taste the sweets of the world for a brief season. We should like to have spent the day with the old man after his experience, surrounded by his cronies to whom he might have been recalling the sights of the larger world. It surely would have been worth the price of admission. We wonder if heaven could surprise Mellie any more than did New York, and Chicago, and San Francisco.

THE CRITICAL STATE OF BRITAIN

Only those who are in the "know" can sense the critical position in which England finds itself. England has always depended largely upon returns from foreign investments to maintain her financial leadership in the world. Now that England's debts beyond her borders are greater than her credits, she finds herself in a precarious position.

Economists are agreed that neither short term or long term credits can help England's situation. The $500,000,000 loaned recently by American and French bankers have practically disappeared already. Only the purchase by other nationals of the stocks and bonds of British enterprises can help matters. But who is going to undertake that? With stocks and bonds bumping around the bottom on our own boards, who will take the risk of British securities?

Surely, these are critical days for the proud Briton, whose pound sterling has been the financial standard of the whole world. It would be nothing short of an international calamity if the power of Britain were to decline. She has not been free from exploiting other peoples, and her record has not always been above criticism. But there has been a conscience among the British people which could always be appealed to when justice and morals were impaired. That conscience has been the hope of the world, and its stability when the foundations were shaky. We still believe that the nation which has weathered so many storms will pass through this trying experience when the clouds which now cover the sky the world over begin to clear.

THE DECREASE IN COLLEGE STUDENTS

From all colleges in the country comes the report of decreased enrollment. This is more true of the private colleges than of the state universities and the city universities. Cancellations have been numerous, and in many cases the decrease has run as high as 25 per cent.

The fact is college expenses have risen so in recent years that the poor boy and girl find it impossible to go unless they have a job of some kind which gives them their board and room, in addition to liberal scholarships. Jobs are not to be had, and the natural decline in dividends have made it difficult for many colleges to furnish scholarships. Many men of means have found it difficult to meet the college expenses of their sons and daughters by reason of the shrinkage in income and of frozen assets which have impaired credit.

Mr. Gifford's National Commission has written to all colleges asking them to supply scholarships as far as possible and keep the students in school, thus saving an invasion of the labor market. No doubt the college authorities will do all they can to hold their students, but they themselves have their financial problems.

We do not much regret that there has been a decrease in enrollment; but we do deplore the fact that many bright students who ought to go to college will be unable to do so, while many who ought never to go to college anyway, simply because they can pay the bills, are to have the doubtful opportunity. The other unfortunate consideration is that many boys and girls, unable to meet the financial requirements, will be thrown upon an over-supplied labor market which offers little chance of work. Idleness and discouragement unfortunately travel in company.

AIMEE McPHERSON AT BOSTON

It is our belief that Aimee McPherson will conclude afterward, that she should have scored the siren call from the owner of a great arena to come and conduct a series of meetings in Boston. Boston has always been a lure for our leading evangelists, and all of them have had the same disillusioning experience. Mr. Moody used to say that his message always was heard with sympathy and a large measure of success, but Boston was a baffling proposition. Billy Sunday went to Boston after his marvelous successes in Philadelphia and other great cities. But Boston refused to take much notice of him. Many years ago Charles G. Finney went to Boston, and he experienced the first spiritual frost of his career. We are sure Aimee would suffer the same disillusionment. Of course, crowds would come out to hear her, but she would find stony ground for all the seed she scattered. A month after her departure there would not be even the shadow of a moral or a spiritual impact. No group of any influence would have been gathered to carry on the work.

Boston has well been called the Athens of America, where people still yearn to hear some new thing. The culture and conservatism of Boston is little touched by any emotional appeal. Only those who know Boston atmosphere can approach its people with any hope of leaving an impact upon its cultural life. We are confident that "Aimee" does not realize this.

Art For a Dollar

Christian Science Monitor

With discussion waging strongly about the value of the dollar now as compared to other years, consider this same crisp one dollar bill in relation to art. No jewel-like water color sketches and deep-toned canvases are not being exchanged for the small sum of one dollar. Rather, our song concerns decorative and applied art, and we shall dare also to speak of art and a mixing bowl in the same breath.

To some the worth of the dollar probably was never more clearly shown than at the recent Art Center exhibition in New York City, where decorative objects and household utensils, obtainable for one dollar or less, were displayed. These articles, all chosen for their artistic design and fine construction, were listed with prices which proved to the incredulous onlooker that it was possible in the realm of household utensils for good taste and a small pocketbook to shake hands.

When an article is procured with considerable difficulty and at much expenditure, it is the accepted state of affairs that it should be rare and beautiful. But when gleaming pewter, sparkling glass, pottery in the Italian renaissance and European peasant style, and Basque linen are found for prices of a dollar or less, then manifestly one's eyes may widen.

"What a Dollar Can Buy" was the title of the exhibition. Fulfilling this promise were displayed articles of fine craftsmanship. There were clear crystal glassware, attractive in design and in its evasive amber and green coloring; perfume bottles, reproductions of early American glassware; mixing bowls, so unusual in line as to serve suitably as flower containers; enamel pottery and decorative linen. Obviously, many of these wares are of the type that several years ago would have been procurable only in the field of craftsmanship. That they are now accessible in most of the large department stores throughout the country at low prices is due to the modern quantity production.

At that same low price, however, or higher, worthless atrocities may be purchased. So while the American people are being urged from all sides to desist from their carefully inculcated thriftiness, to the word "buy," which is emblazoned continually before them, should be added another: Buy carefully. For the first word unmodified by the second may signify waste.

Always the Other Fellow

New York Times

At what precise point does a soap-bubble burst? If the spot is duly identified, of what particular importance is it, anyhow? While Mr. Hoover was telling the American Legion that the principal forces of economic depression "flow" to us from other countries, Chancellor Snowden was telling the House of Commons about the great heaps of sterilized gold lying in the vaults of foreign treasuries and causing all kinds of trouble.

Great Britain's financial difficulties trace directly back to the German crisis of last June, which goes back to the failure of Austrian Creditanstalt some time before, which goes back to the terrific fall in commodity prices, which goes back to overproduction in raw materials, which goes back to the inflated prosperity in the United States, which was ended, as some would have it, by the Hatz crash in England, &c. In the distress of the moment people insist on pointing to the other fellow as the cause of all the mischief.

In our hearts we know that it does not really signify whether the break comes here or there. The break is only the symptom of a run-down condition in a system of which we are a part.

Just One of Those Things

San Francisco Chronicle

When the City of New York last week borrowed $1,000,000 on short term notes at a yearly rate of one and three-eighths per cent it established a new low record for interest rates paid by the city.

One and three-eighths money is as notable in the money market as fifty-cent wheat is in the grain pit. The situation is almost a paradox in depression. Usually when commodities are cheap money is dear. Here is an era in which commodities are cheap and money also is cheap, in this country at least.

Another paradox might be cited in one immediate result of the British suspension of gold payments. In the first four days following the passage of the act the swollen gold reserves of the United States were depleted by more than $180,000,000.

More Truth Than Poetry

CONFESSION

Alcohol is frequently found in the brains of people who never drink a drop of liquor.

Although I'm moderately dry,
And never growl about
In quest of gin or Scotch or rye
Or beer or ale or stout,
The law might have me in its power
Most any time at all,
Because my brain is hour by hour
Distilling alcohol.

When I am quietly in bed,
When forth to work I go,
Unseen somewhere inside my head
Forbidden liquors flow.
These liquors I do not distill
So far as I'm aware,
They are no product of my will,
But, just the same, they're there.

And if some minion of the law
Should fix on me his gaze
And tell exactly what he saw (Assisted by X-rays)
I might be forced to pay a fine
Or, lacking cash for bail,
Be gruffly sentenced to reprimand
A month or two in jail.

No more I hold my head up now;
Life does not seem the same.
The brand of guilt is on my brow,
My soul is filled with shame.
For me the future, once so bright,
Now looms all bleak and chill;
My conscience haunts me day and night,
For I'm a walking synd.

Uncommon Sense

BY JOHN BLAKE

THE WORST OF ALL TRAITORS

Now and again the people of some great city discover that the people they have employed to run their local government have been grafting.

Nine times out of ten, it is only the henchmen and the "lobby-gangs" of the important office holders who go to jail.

But that seems to satisfy the public. It stops complaining, and in a few weeks or months, or perhaps a few years, the whole rascally system is in full swing again.

I know that sometimes elected officials are not recipients of any of the graft money their underlings collect.

But until the people hold them directly responsible for what has been going on there will be no abatement of crookedness.

The captain of a ship who came into port announcing that his crew had sold part of the cargo in an overseas port and put the money into their own pockets would never get the command of another vessel.

The general of an army whose supplies had been stolen by some subordinate would speedily lose his command.

Yet in all the graft investigations the people, who should be the real bosses, are content if somebody is made the "goat" and never insist that the officials they elected be given their dues.

The worst of all traitors is the man in whom the people of any government repose confidence, and who permits those under him to steal.

He may be weak or good-natured or ambitious to continue in office. But that is no excuse.

Elected officials can, if they have ability and strength of character, enforce rigid honesty in those under them, no matter how well organized is the system, or how long it has been going on.

Their power of removal guarantees them that. If a civil service system prevents summary removal, the head of a department can lay his case before a district attorney and public opinion will do the rest.

No official, big or little, will steal in office if he knows that to be caught means the loss of his job and perhaps the loss of his liberty for five or ten years.

The head of a government cannot be expected to keep all crooks out of town and cities but he can keep out of office the officials who are hand in glove with them and protecting them, and who take part of the loot as the price of overlooking crime.

Graft has existed in all times—long before the word was ever given the meaning it carries today.

So have smallpox and cholera existed for a long time, but nevertheless they are being eliminated.

When the electors begin taking a real interest in their government, considering it as their own property, there will be an end of rascality in office, which makes possible corrupt and inefficient government.

It will take a long time to get this fact into the heads of the people who do the electing. But don't expect any improvement until this comes to pass.

Little Benny's
Note Book

Pape

Last night ma left on the train to visit my Ant Fanny, me and pop taking her to the station in the Sparrow, being pretty near late for the train, and ma said to pop, Now, Willyum, give me my ticket.

Your ticket for Peet sake, I haven't got your ticket and never had your ticket, pop said.

Then everything is lost and the whole expedition has fizzled out in an empty mockery and a hollow failure, and here I am at the station with the train on the point of pulling in and my ticket at home quite safe and sound and perfectly useless in a narrow yellow envelope, and all because you didn't pick it up off my dressing table and put it in your pocket when I asked you to, ma said.

When you what? Yee gods you never mentioned the word ticket to me, pop said, and ma said, Willyum Potts where are your wits? I can still hear myself distinctly telling you in a clear firm voice to put that envelope in your pocket and hand it to me at the train so I'd be sure to have it in my hand when I needed it most. I remember my very words as though they were engraved on steel parchment, as I took the envelope out of my bag and put it on my dressing table. Willyum, I said, put this in your pocket so I won't have to indulge in my usual frantic search, that's what I said, and you replied calmly, All right, I'll give it to you at the train steps, and like a poor trusting fool of a woman I left the rest to you, ma said. And here comes the train and now what? she said.

Now let me see that bag of yours, pop said. And he quick took it and looked in, saying, Here's the blasted yellow envelope, you never even took it out at all. And you remember your very words and my very words, do you, how odd, he said.

There's nothing odd about it, they were the very words you would properly be replied, so I don't see any excuse for sourciness, ma said.

It's a woman's world, pop said. Hurry up and get on that train or the ticket might as well be home anyway, he said. Meaning the train would go without her.

Which it almost did.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

THE TRAITOROUS MacDonald

Ramsay MacDonald has been roundly damned as a deserter of the cause of labor.

At this distance, and with no information that has not been filtered through the minds of reporters who may subtly have colored it with their own preconceptions, I do not want to pass judgment upon the specific issue that was the bridge across which MacDonald walked from the leadership of a labor government to the leadership of an interim government compounded of all parties.

I want rather to comment upon an aspect of the MacDonald shift that has not yet been mentioned in the dispatches.

There is always a touch of the traitor about the truly transcendent leader.

The petty leader follows his followers.

The princely leader follows his facts.

His treasons are more seeming than real; they are in effect a larger loyalty to his group, for they are born of a deeper insight into the real interests of his group than the group itself has; but, from the point of view of the group, they are treasons, nevertheless.

Without the capacity and the courage to turn traitor to the obstinate and the obsolete in the contentions of his own followers, the leader becomes but the bond slave of the whims of his constituency, and this spells the abdication of leadership.

If the historian could effect a qualitative balancing of the books of the human adventure, I gamble the guess that the audit would show greater sins against the common weal at the hands of loyalists than at the hands of traitors.

Quite aside from the rightness or wrongness of the specific decisions, the world needs just now the MacDonald spirit that can oppose a war when the nation's brain is on fire and, without whimpering, accept indictment for disloyalty to a limited group in order to give loyalty to a larger interest.

America needs traitorous republicans.

America needs traitorous democrats.

America needs traitorous conservatives.

America needs traitorous liberals.

America needs traitorous business men.

America needs, in short, men with the courage to challenge the obsolete principles and practices that have gone so far towards making these old classifications meaningless in the face of the political distraction, economic depression and social disinvestment that have been the burden of so many of these articles in these latter months.

OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

DOES IT MATTER?

Often we spend a lot of time fussing about things that do not matter. Sometimes I think we do it to keep from feeling useless. When we are doing something when we are merely fussing.

"I don't know what to do in this situation. Please help me. My little son aged 4 is a lovely child. He is healthy and bright and has always obeyed me implicitly. Lately my old school chum has moved to the neighborhood. She has a son of about the same age, but he is far from being what I would call a desirable companion for my boy.

He is very rough. He throws stones and hits with sticks. He pushes the little girls into the mud and chases all the dogs. And your boy doesn't? Well, he is going to just as soon as he catches up to it. Every healthy little boy has his period of savagery. You have to train him out of it and get him ready for the next period when he joins the gang and breaks the neighbors' windows.

It's all a matter of growing up.

So don't make a fuss about a routine matter. Don't accent a situation without asking yourself "Does it matter?" Call up your sense of humor. You can't hold down a mother's job without laughing at yourself once in a while. You see nobody else will laugh at you. The world takes mothers seriously, as they must be taken. If you don't reserve that privilege for yourself it is going to be lost and you'll be that dreadful person, a humorless woman.

Mothers have enough to worry about without fastening temporary irritations upon themselves and making them into permanent handicaps. Just weigh the matter and ask "Does it matter?"

On this date also the French repulsed an attack on the Aisne, in Champagne, and in Upper Alsace, and the Russians, in the Kikash-Amadia sector of the Caucasian front, took the village of Nereman, 50 miles north of Mosul.

The British advanced up the Tigris.
